

Rain Sensor Control

This is a photo of what your rain sensor receiver (next to your timer) should look like after a good rainfall- like this morning- Friday May 24 2019.

The red light indicates that the sensor will prevent the system from watering.

It will not otherwise interfere with your watering schedule.

If yours does not look like this- please have it tested...

